ECOSS needs your support today

Support ECOSS by joining or renewing your membership. If ECOSS has provided help to you, your business or your community that has resulted in saving you money, protecting the environment, and becoming more sustainable, please pledge your support through a membership contribution.

When you become a member of ECOSS, you become a member of our growing, thriving community. We are proud to offer you a suite of benefits, both from us and our wonderful community of supporters including Ecohaus, Second Use Building Materials, Sustainable Industries magazine, and the 2010 Go Green Conference. To learn more and to quickly and securely renew or join online, please visit our membership page.

Celebrate the 40th Anniversary of Earth Day with ECOSS and Duwamish Alive!

Seattle is a green city full of environmentally-minded folks, but our only river, the Duwamish, has less than 3% of its original habitat remaining. Join the largest group of Earth Day volunteers to help restore critical salmon and wildlife habitat along the Duwamish River on April 17th for Duwamish Alive!

ECOSS will be working with People for Puget Sound and the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) at North Wind's Weir. Altogether, 300 volunteers will be needed to make the day a success. In South Park, ECOSS will be working with the Duwamish River Cleanup Coalition, Puget Soundkeeper Alliance and Alki Kayak Tours to carry out the always popular Kayak River Cleanup at Duwamish Waterway Park. Through these efforts, the long term goal is to help bring back at least 30% of the river shoreline for wildlife habitat. No experience is necessary and all tools and materials will be provided. Email Jordon McEntire at jordon@ecoss.org to RSVP.

And what would Earth Day be without a party? After volunteering, a free Earth Day festival will be taking place at Pathfinder School in the Delridge neighborhood from 2 until 4. The Festival will provide food, kids' activities, informational booths, music, and special Earth Day surprises! Click here for more information.
